

Insurance for Computers

Using our technical and market knowledge gained over many years, coupled with client feedback, we have developed a policy that offers wide, affordable and flexible cover to meet your clients' needs.

Our emphasis is on flexibility - we do not have rigid limits against each section of cover. Instead we offer an overall limit of loss that can be applied to one or all sections of cover in the event of a claim. This avoids the need for clients to speculate as to what are reasonable inner limits for covers such as Reinstatement of Data or Increased Cost of Working.

We include several key features as standard and not found in many other policies, such as the total absence of any minimum physical security requirements, giving your clients added peace of mind knowing that they will still receive full protection, even if any part of their normal security measures are not in place.

By providing cover where clients need it most, Maven are the broker's choice for Computer insurance.
